Roma persecuted in Europe...

FOR CENTURIES, EUROPEAN SOCIETIES HAVE MISTREATED ROMA and Sinti people, commonly known as "Gypsies". Their nomadic lifestyle was viewed as a threat to the common man's livelihood, which was based on a stable stationary residence on a farm. Also, the Roma clung to their customs and language even though they were marginalized in every aspect imaginable.

Czechoslovakia of the 1930's was already discussing implementing concentration work camps to control the "Gypsy" dilemma. Hitler, seeing the rampant hatred of the Roma, only had to harness that bigotry. Half a million Roma and Sinti people died in Nazi concentration camps.

Institutionalized persecution and hatred inside Czechoslovakia of the Roma did not end with the fall of Nazi Germany, the methods were simply altered. After the war, Roma from the Slovak region of Czechoslovakia were funnelled into the part of the country that was being industrialized to be used as cheap labour. With the rise to power of Communism in Czechoslovakia, complete assimilation into society was demanded. Again the issue of Roma cultural independence caused resentment and hatred, although acts of racially motivated violence against the Roma were contained.

In the post-Communist era, far right and anti-Roma violence increased in Czechoslovakia. An openly anti-Roma political party claimed 8.5% in the 1994 elections. The separation of Czechoslovakia into the Czech Republic and Slovakia, created a new aspect of anti-Roma sentiment. In the Czech Republic, the Roma who had earlier been forcibly relocated there for labour purposes were made non-citizens. A poll revealed that 70% of Czechs were not against deportation of all the Roma.

It's not just the average farmer or factory worker that discriminates against the Roma. They are frequently expelled from farms and settlements and discriminated against when looking for work.

The outcast status thrust upon the Roma makes them easy targets for violence. But the Czech Republic provides no effective protection for them. Between 1991 and 1997, 1,250 racially motivated attacks on the Roma, resulting in 9 Roma fatalities, were reported. Often, a Roma person who does go to the cops is not believed and the attackers go unpunished.

With the societal bigotry and persecution as well as the institutionalized, it is no wonder that the Roma are seeking refuge in seemingly free countries.

TODAY'S BONEHEADS LIKE TO PRETEND THEY'RE AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT. Hah! When push comes to shove they're a lot more likely to target vulnerable people who are already being kicked around by the system.

Take the Roma people who came to Canada as refugees last summer. They get intimidated and harassed by immigration authorities. They get put up in welfare hotels, whole families to one room. Social Services tries to blame them for the shortage of emergency welfare housing. City councillor Gordon Chong calls Roma people pimps and thieves and says they "exist on crime". The media jumps on the bandwagon, headlining "criminal Gypsies" and the "Gypsy influx" that "floods shelters".

And then one August morning, they wake up to see 20 nazi boneheads parading in front of their hotel with swazi flags and signs saying "honk if you hate gypsies".

According to spokesman Walter Froeblich, they were "just skinheads from all over who came together to fight the gypsies." Kinda makes you want to puke, doesn't it?

Sept 15, 97... BBQ to welcome Roma refugees in Scarborough

To show support for the Roma families getting attacked on all sides, ARA and the Ontario Coalition Against Poverty got together for a big community barbecue at the hotel where the nazis had marched. The nearby Church agreed to host the picnic in their parking lot – until cops told them that responding to nazi threats only makes the problem worse!

So we set up the barbecue right outside the motel. One hundred people came out to Scarboro to eat burgers, listen to music, play soccer and hold up signs by the road saying "honk if you hate racists".

Next, ARA and OCAP took our protest to the doorstep of Walter Froeblich out in Etobicoke. We only brought 40 people this time, but if we get wind of more bad behavior from Wally we'll be back to make sure he gets the spanking he deserves!

targeted in Toronto

The "Roma-Hating Eight"

In December, eight of the pinheads were charged with "promoting hatred against an identifiable group" including:

Ryan Douglas Marshall, 4 Lalton Place, Scarboro

Walter John Froebrich, 619 Rathburn Rd., Unit #74, Etobicoke

Michael Peter Schulz, 20 Allister Rd, Scarboro

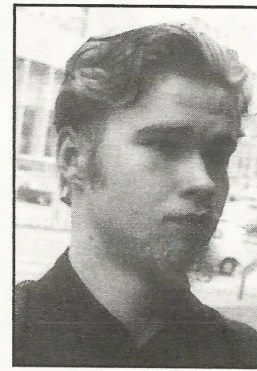

Bryan Curtis Brown, 126 Bellamy Rd. N., Unit #214, Scarboro

Quinn Mason McFarlane, 32 Hammersmith Ave., Toronto

Krzysztof Peter Kryzmowski, 10 Wallingford Court, Brampton

Cops are also looking at charging Eugene Kelly and Patrick John Hall, who's been a distributor for the white power music label, Resistance Records. Our sources say that "Little John" Rexinger, Justin Vergalac, Anna Viscounti, and Thomas Shanoff were at the anti-Roma rally too. Our sources also wonder: how did the cops get so many names, and how did they decide who to charge and who to leave alone?!?

Most of these losers are in their late teens and early 20s, but many have been around the racist scene for a long time.

Some of the pinheads busted for promoting hatred from top, going clockwise:

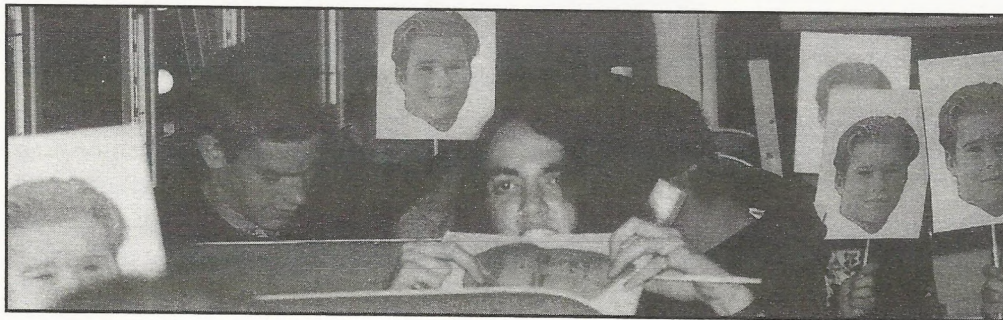

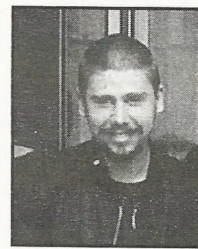

Ryan Marshall

Walter John

Froebrich

Peter Kryzmowski

Michael Schulz

October 9...ARA & OCAP took a bus to Etobicoke to confront Walter Froebrich at home. Wally and his folks weren't home, but we got some good dirt from his neighbours. He's sure not too popular among the many Jewish, Black and Brown people on his street...

Walter Froebrich has been in Heritage Front circles since 1995. He brags that lawyer Doug Christie, infamous defender of racists and anti-semites, will be representing him in this trial. And Ryan Marshall has long been a big cheese with the "East Scarborough Skinheads", a racist gang that started out as a drinking club, but has become more political.

In June 1996, one of their boys, Michael Amann-Ewaschuk, died after a fight with an anti-racist youth at Main Station. His death was a rallying cry for a local boneheads. There was racial violence and tension at Scarboro's Wilfred Laurier High School all through the fall.

In March 97, the ESS brought their crew downtown for a march down Yonge Street against the commemoration of the International Day for the Elimination of Racism and Apartheid. A week later, Marshall and Quinn McFarlane jumped a CFTO reporter who was reporting on the trial of the youth who had killed Michael Amann back in June 96.

Marshall has also been busted on a sexual assault beef, and McFarlane is locked up for another racist attack. What role models for Aryan youth, what martyrs for the cause!

Immigration KKKanada

The Canadian authorities admit that conditions for Roma people are terrible in the Czech Republic. Almost all of the Roma who came last summer have been granted refugee status, in the cases that have been heard so far.

But in November, Immigration Canada bowed to right-wing pressure and re-established visa requirements for people coming from the Czech Republic. This will prevent many Roma refugees from even making it to Canada to apply for asylum.

This is part of a broader crackdown on refugees by Immigration Canada. They want to change the rules to make it harder to claim refugee status in Canada. They also want to make it easier for Canada to deport people, even after being accepted as refugees fleeing persecution.

To show your disgust today, or support the different immigrant communities who are fighting to stop deportations, you can call the Ontario Coalition Against Poverty - Team Immigration! at (416) 925-6939.

Spring Break – Jericho '98

SOME OF THE ARA NETWORK GROUPS, INCLUDING TORONTO ARA, are actively working on the campaign to win a new trial and ultimately freedom for Mumia Abu-Jamal, perhaps the best-known political prisoner held in the U$. Many are also working on a large-scale demonstration to be held in Washington, D.C. on March 27, a national mobilization campaign to force the united states government to admit the existence of over 100 political prisoners held in the U$ and set them FREE. Organizers expect 100,000 people, and have even gotten airplane and hotel discounts. Tentatively scheduled to speak are Kathleen Cleaver, Sonia Sanchez and Geronimo Ji Jaga, and it promises to be a lively event.

The theme is biblical in origin: Book of Joshua - Chapter 6. Joshua was a general of Prophet Moses and his brother Aaron, until they died. Joshua inherited the leadership as a political and military leader. On one Campaign, Joshua marched his army of People on Jericho, and in a 7 day siege they were able to win the city. The siege of Jericho according to biblical lore was a miracle of "people power," which upon command they made a loud clamour of shouts and blowing of trumpets that the walls of Jericho came tumbling down.

The march has been endorsed by many groups, some of which have been active since the 60s and 70s, and some of which were set up as support groups for the imprisoned men and women, following the era of the FBI's COINTELPRO counter-insurgency warfare that orchestrated the assassinations and frame-ups of revolutionaries from the Black/New Afrikan, American Indian and anti-imperialist movements.

Lots of young people are getting involved too, realizing that the fight to free imprisoned revolutionaries is part of carrying on the struggle against racism and colonialism. The involvement of many ARA chapters is a valuable link for continuity in anti-racist struggle. Many of those imprisoned in past decades have a wealth of understanding of how to confront boneheads (yeah, they had them back then too) and how it all connects up to building a positive vision of the kind of society we want.

In Toronto, we had a strong turnout for the Dec. 6 Day of Action for Mumia Abu-Jamal. It was great to see that people are ready to keep up the pressure as we wait for the decision whether or not Mumia will get a new trial. If he does not, the Governor of Pennsylvania has said he will sign the death warrant... and the struggle will really heat up.

In Canada, two political prisoners deserve more attention as well: Ts'Peten Defenders Wolverine and OJ are currently incarcerated by British Columbia for taking a stand to defend traditional Shuswap Territory, during the 1995 Gustafsen Lake crisis, the largest deployment of paramilitary forces in Canada's history. They are appealing to international courts for justice, since they are members of a sovereign nation who were defending unceded territory, and by that definition are also Prisoners of War.

As we go to press, we hear that one of the main support people for the Ts'Peten Defenders has been brutally beaten by RCMPigs, who stopped his vehicle on a flimsy pretext. Another act of war on Indian people, and part of a continuous campaign of harassment since the standoff ended.

Black history, African liberation... what they don't teach you in skool!

CANADIAN HISTORY IS FULL OF EXAMPLES OF MILITANT BLACK struggle against White Supremacy, like the Underground Railroad. Back in 1850, the American Fugitive Slave Act allowed slave "masters" to hunt down runaway slaves who had escaped to northern states. Slavery had been illegal in Canada, which was still a British colony at the time, since 1834. (This was not because of any great concern for Black slaves on the part of the British, it was simply because the housing and feeding of slaves in a harsh climate like Canada was inconvenient and expensive.)

The Underground Railroad was a name given to a loosely organized group of Black and white abolitionists, who helped freedom-seeking Black slaves escape from the U.S. to Canada, where they would not be hunted by slave-owners. They were forced to work in absolute secrecy, often having to meet at night in isolated forests or swamps, and risked death or imprisonment. Through their efforts, something like 30,000 fugitive slaves settled in Ontario, mostly around St. Catharines, Chatam, London, and Toronto.

Harriet Tubman, nicknamed "Black Moses" (pictured at right), was a key figure in the Underground Railroad. She escaped from slavery herself and settled in St. Catharines in 1851. In the following decade she made at least 15 expeditions to the slave states, with a $40,000 reward on her head, offered by slaveholders.

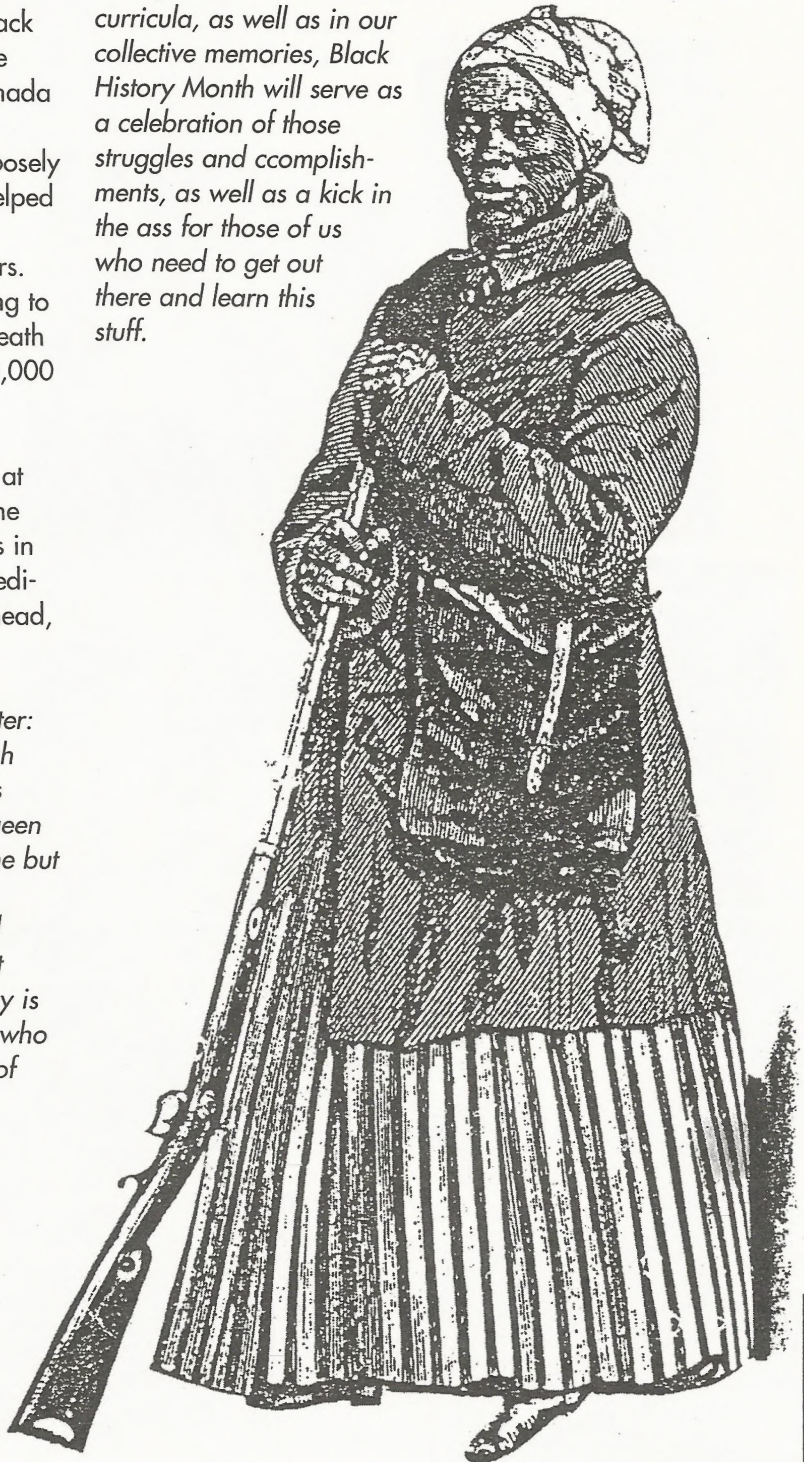

Notes on Black History Month from one ARA supporter: All i learned in every history class i ever sat through was lots of crap about a bunch of Dead White Men. This included things they had done, usually in the name of queen and country and respectability, which seemed awful to me but which made them into Great Heroes in the eyes of my teachers and the history textbooks. These heroes were all European or of European descent, and everyone else got conquered or ignored or enslaved. Our concept of history is flawed because it fails to honour Black women and men who escaped slavery and fought injustice and did thousands of other things that have been ignored, demeaned and forgotten.

That's why February is Black History Month. Some Black activists prefer to call February "African Liberation Month", to emphasize the struggle for freedom that is pursued by people of African descent everywhere in the world. But everyone agrees that knowing your History is the first step.

Educate yourself about Black history. Ask your teachers why it's being ignored. Confront trustees and school boards and the people who set the curriculum. Support groups like the Ontario Black History Society. Don't be lazy and assume that what you're hearing in class is the truth.

Until the struggles and accomplishments of Black women and men throughout history are recognized by the rest of society and included in school curricula, as well as in our collective memories, Black History Month will serve as a celebration of those struggles and accomplishments, as well as a kick in the ass for those of us who need to get out there and learn this stuff.

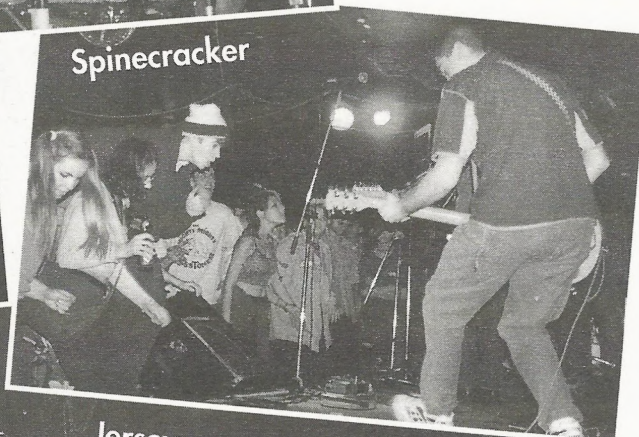

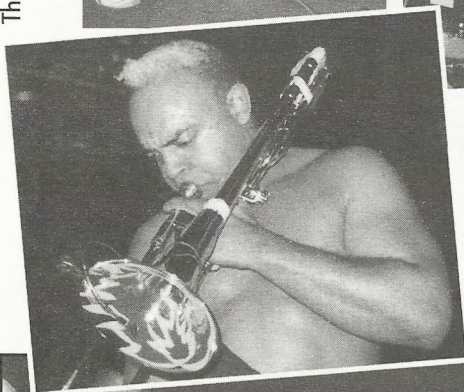

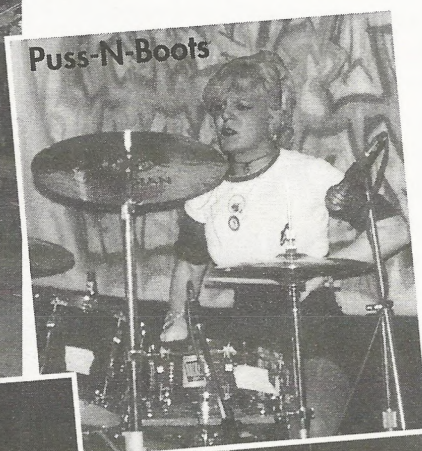

Sold-out show in Toronto

On January 16, Toronto ARA/Rock Against Racism put on our second annual Ska, Ska, Oi! Jam, with Raw Energy Records. The gig was at the El Mocambo and featured Puss-N-Boots from New York City, Toronto's Arsenal, Spinecracker, and Jersey from Burlington. The Adjusters from Chicago were unable to make it due to car trouble, but we're hoping they can come at a later date. They missed one of our best shows ever!

By the time Jersey hit the stage there were close to 500 people in attendance. Jersey tore through their intense set with abundance and had the crowd skankin' and boppin' crazily to the beat. Next up, Puss-N-Boots, a chelsea/punk foursome performing just their second show but who would've known it?

They rocked the house and played like seasoned vets with their brand of street punk/metal.

Thanks to Kingfisher for these awesome pix!

Let's hope the girls get some records, CD's, or tapes out soon!!

Spinecracker was on next and all I have to say is that for a new band they were exhilarating!!! Incredibly, there were no injuries reported after their set as it is impossible to hold still while they play!!!! Finally, the Arsenal came out to end the night with a 90 minute set that made you wish the night would never end.

A VERY BIG THANK YOU to all the bands who played this show, and also our five year anniversary Birthday Bash back in September. We had both floors of the El Mocambo, which allowed more than 700 anti-racists to come by, hear their favourite bands and celebrate with us. Upstairs were Rabblers, Hoodrat, Jerry and the Final Thoughts, the Arsenal, and Adrian Miller. Downstairs showcased Dirge, Figure 4, PMS, Spazmz, Armed and Hammered, and PolitiKILL InCORect.

Much gratitude and respect to Raw Energy, who spared nothing in promoting the January show and got us all lots of media coverage. Also to Who's Emma? Rotate This!, Full Blast Records and She Said Boom! for carrying our tickets, and all the community radio stations for helping us to promote our benefit concerts.

Two Years of Raising Hell in Niagara

ARA Niagara celebrated its two-year anniversary by holding a concert on November 20. Over 100 people packed into the Palm Grove in St. Catharines to see five bands from our region.

This show continued ARA Niagara's tradition of presenting groups that play different styles of music. First up was Clobber Kids, with the first public performance of their Oi!-influenced punk rock. Next was No Big Deal, a new-school skate-punk band from Niagara Falls. After that, P.I.M.P. (Peace Is My Plan) rocked the house with their hardcore hip-hop funkiness. Following P.I.M.P. was Pull Off The Grind, who have recently been reborn as an old-school hardcore band. Last but not least, MDM took the stage and unleashed their industrial/goth onslaught in support of ARA Niagara for the second time.

Fun was had by all, and the threatened protest by the Autonomous Citizens of Canada was cancelled because its only member was out of town.

Rock against racism

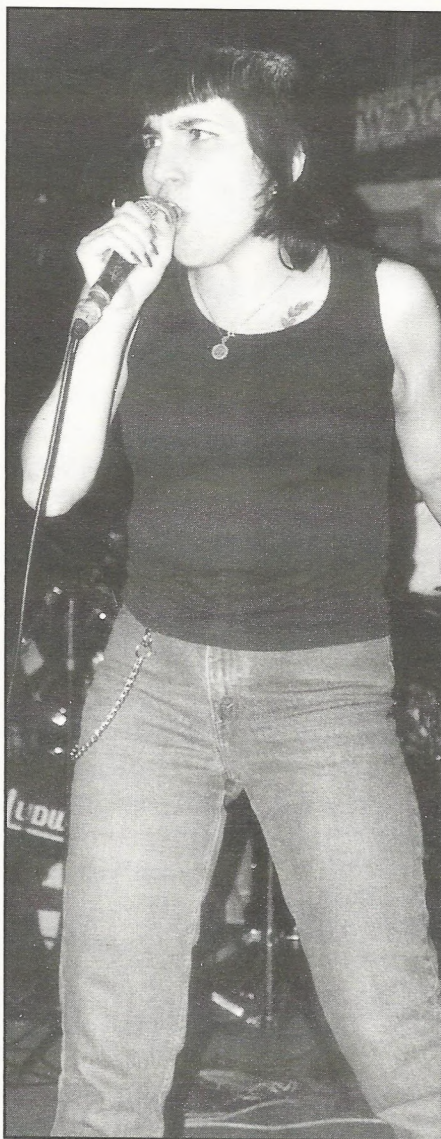

Fortunately organized racism has been on the downturn in NiagARA, although incidents with neo-Nazi youths still occur at clubs and on the street. Heritage Front Niagara has almost no members left, and their phone hotline currently has no message on it. ARA NiagARA has not been too busy lately but if the fascists try to rise again, we'll be there.

Jammin in Kitchener-Waterloo

On January 24, ARA Kitchener-Waterloo threw a hip-hop jam featuring Supreme Being Unit (Toronto), Birdapres (Vancouver), Collapse Syllables (London), local hip-hop and trip-hop DJ's Sly, the Junkeez, DJ Rapscalion, and London b-boy crew the Epileptriks. We had a great turnout and it was lotsa fun while it lasted ('til 1am).

But unfortunately, hip-hop and ARA are both things cops hate, so they hung around the union hall where it was happening all night waiting for any chance to fuck things up. At one point in the night about six cops entered the show and made an arrest, refusing to give an explanation to even the union hall management. Later there was a small verbal dispute between two kids (not even a fight) and the next thing we knew, ten to fifteen cops swarmed in and shut the show down. Their official reason was that there were underagers drinking, although they didn't charge anyone with this.

After we had cleared out and were packing equipment into a van, the cops started hassling us for no apparent reason. After making us stand around in the freezing cold for about an hour while they sat in their cruiser, they admitted we weren't breaking any laws but gave a $105 fine to an ARA member because he hadn't gotten a new driver's license since he had moved. Despite the efforts of these extremely bored and extremely asshole cops, they show was still a success and it won't be the last.

PLUGS FOR BANDS WE LIKE!!

Malton hardcore crew DIRGE invited us to celebrate their second release, Guilty by Association, a team effort with GRIFT. As usual, their many fans got what they came for that night: awesome energy from the whole band, and singer Fawad's intense growling voice. Definitely worth checking.

On a more rock-n-roll tip, GROOVY RELIGION has also put out a new release, Canadabis. We appreciate these guys, seasoned musicians all. Not only are their tunes thoughtful and often a lot harder than you might expect (given the name of the band)... but they also go out of their way to promote new acts, to create that "underground" culture that keeps us all sane! Thanks!

Oakville Youth Against Hate

On November 1st at the YMCA in Oakville there was a Rock against Racism show. It was a joint project between Punx Against Profits and Youth Against Hate, an Oakville based collective fighting racism, sexism and homophobia. Bands on the bill were The Chubbs, Illbred, Granny Smith and the Rotten Apples, Projection, Consumerist, and Hoodrat.

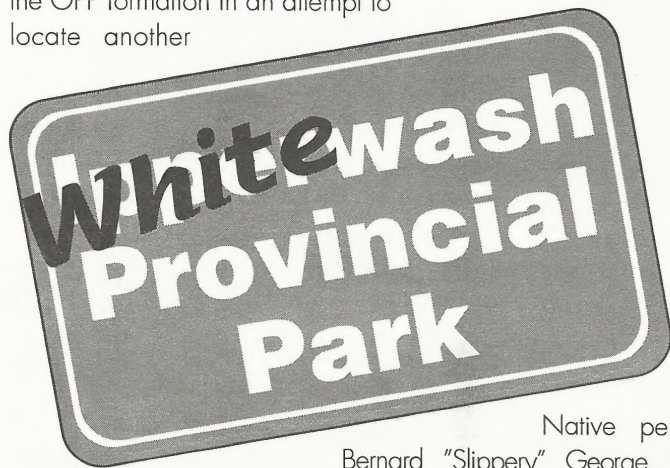

We wanted to demonstrate that Youth Against Hate is organized and active as a group, so when the boneheads kept ripping down our posters, we kept putting them back up.

The night of the show went great and there were no problems. At one point two local boneheads tried to come in but we told them they weren't welcome, and they left with out any hassles. Later on in the night someone said that all the boneheads were outside the Y so we went on the mic and announced it to the crowd and the whole show (150-200 people) poured outside to tell them to leave but when we got out there it was a false alarm. Oh well, it was still nice to see the scene unite and stick together. You can contact Youth Against Hate at yah@knowhow.com.

Cop friendly judge convicts Stoney Pointer

ON THURSDAY FEBRUARY 12, WARREN GEORGE, OF STONEY POINT, was found guilty of criminal negligence causing bodily harm and assault with a weapon, his car, by Judge Greg Pockele. A charge of dangerous driving was stayed.

Warren's trial is the last in a series of court cases intended to criminalize the Stoney Pointers for their struggle for self-determination and justice. The charges stem from September 6, 1995 when Dudley George, of Stoney Point, was murdered by OPP sniper Ken Deane during an OPP assault on the Stoney Point community. Around 10 p.m. on September 6 over 30 OPP officers in riot gear marched down a darkened road to confront Stoney Pointers. Warren drove his car slowly through the OPP formation in an attempt to locate another Native person, Bernard "Slippery" George, who had been arrested and severely beaten by the OPP riot squad.

On that night the Stoney Pointers were defending their traditional burial grounds. The province of Ontario had desecrated the burial grounds in 1937 to provide recreation for tourists... the burial grounds were bulldozed in the creation of Ipperwash Provincial Park.

In total 62 charges have been laid against the Stoney Pointers in connection with their reclamation of Aazhoozena (Stoney Point) Territory. An overwhelming number of 45 charges have been withdrawn by the crown because of "no reasonable prospect of conviction." Those which were withdrawn include charges which attempted to place weapons into the hands of the Stoney Pointers, who were unarmed throughout the OPP assault. Four charges have been dismissed and there has been 1 guilty plea, 9 convictions and 3 acquittals, including the acquittal of a Stoney Point youth who maneuvered a school bus through the riot squad for the same reason as Warren.

After the trials of the Stoney Point youth (who drove the school bus) and other Stoney Pointers were concluded, a new judge, Greg Pockele, was brought in for the trials of Warren George and Dave George. Judge Pockele stated in his judgment that evidence from the trial of the youth was not relevant for Warren's hearing. An indication of deliberate manipulation of the "just-us" system?

The circumstances for the trial of famous political prisoner Leonard Peltier are similar to those of Warren's trial. Peltier was tried in the US for the killing of two FBI agents. Now, even the FBI admit they can't prove who actually killed the agents, yet Peltier has been confined in prison for over 20 years. Others had been accused of the same murders as Leonard Peltier, but were acquitted of the charges before Peltier was brought to trial.

Sectarian Killings

10 more. His killers, the INLA, are an Irish nationalist paramilitary group that opposes the peace process currently underway in the north of Ireland. Other, more mainstream, paramilitary groups are participating in the peace talks, such as the Irish Republican Army.

The north of Ireland has been under military occupation by British forces for nearly thirty years. The armed struggle against this occupation is a result of 800 years of British oppression of the Irish people. Communities in British-occupied Ireland are primarily divided between Protestants and Catholics. Protestants have traditionally held the balance of power in the north of Ireland in terms of political representation, employment, housing and basic civil rights. Republican paramilitary groups, whose members are predominantly Catholic, oppose British rule. Loyalist para-

Billy Wright and pro-british LVF thugs

In late December, Billy Wright (also known as King Rat) was shot to death inside the Belfast Maze prison by the Irish National Liberation Army. Billy Wright was the leader of the protestant paramilitary group known as the Loyalist Volunteer Force, which has been responsible for dozens of murders of Irish Catholics. Billy Wright himself has admitted to 12 sectarian murders, and is thought to have committed at least for defending his People's territory

A new judge, who was hand picked and favoured by the FBI, was chosen to preside at the trial of Leonard Peltier. Similar to Judge Pockele, Peltier's judge ruled evidence from Peltier's co-defendants inadmissible.

In an opportunistic attempt to reverse some of the findings of previous court cases, Judge Pockele stated that Bernard "Slippery" George had assaulted OPP officers. Yet Slippery has been acquitted of the assault police charge which was laid on him. Judge Pockele even went as far as blaming the Stoney Pointers for the death of Dudley George, stating that the actions of the Stoney Pointers were "extremely dangerous, violent and assaultive," and caused "all injuries which occurred that night and the death of a man."

One week previous to Warren's trial, the same judge acquitted a cop on drunk driving charges. Sgt. Jeff Dreidger passed out while driving his pick-up, crashed into a stop sign, a Bell telephone box and a utility pole before coming to a stop. Judge Pockele ruled that Dreidger's driving could not be attributed to his drinking. Instead, he cited a "fainting fit" as the cause. Dreidger had testified that he has experienced these fainting fits since he was 18 but had never mentioned it to senior officers or attempted to get any help for his problem.

Warren George returns to court on April 3 for his sentencing. It is possible that Warren will be sentenced to prison time, which would make his "punishment" for defending his people's territory more severe than Acting OPP Sgt. Deane's slap on the wrist for taking the life of Dudley. In June of 1997, Deane was given two years less a day of community service for being criminally negligent (while in the line of duty) causing the death of Dudley George.

We've produced a new pamphlet about the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters (OFAH). Posing as "concerned citizens", right-wingers in OFAH have orchestrated a campaign against indigenous hunting and fishing rights. For info on the OFAH's right wing connections, and their cozy relationship with the Harris government, write to ARA for the pamphlet.

and Loyalist Violence in Ireland

military groups, whose members are predominantly Protestant, oppose any change in the political structure of the six counties of northern Ireland, as well as any advancements in terms of civil rights for Catholics. Loyalists in the north of Ireland are linked with neo-nazi groups in England, such as the National Front.

Since the Billy Wright killing, the LVF have begun a sectarian revenge campaign directed at Catholics, mostly contained in Belfast. The day after the killing, LVF gunmen tried to enter a disco full of Catholic teenagers but were prevented from doing so by the doormen. In the process, one of the doormen, Seamus Dillon, who happened to be an ex-IRA member who had been released from a 20-year prison term only three years earlier, was shot to death and a 14 year old boy was wounded. In the next few days, the LVF walked into a catholic pub and fired at random, killing another catholic man. Since then, at least nine other Catholics have been murdered by Loyalist paramilitary groups, including one participating in the peacetalks at the time of the murders (they have since left the peace process). Loyalist groups, including paramilitaries, have had backing from both the police and the British military in the north of Ireland, often in the form of weaponry, intelligence, and turning the other cheek while Catholics are being slaughtered.

RAT TRAP

As I was banished from your anniversary issue, you might have forgotten about me. Hey, this is your rat-man, reporting to you from the other side of the trenches. As you all might know, the story in the bunker is none other than Zundel's failed love story.

Remember folks, I tipped you off back in 1995 that Ernie "the neckless" Zundel's marriage of convenience was on the rocks from the out-set. The man's love for Hitler is number one for fuck's sake... he's a fucking necro-nazi! Today his wife Irene Zundel is out of his bed and back to Pennsylvania with her kid. She became a rat for the "big government" and gave some damning testimony, screwing up all of Zundel's lies at a recent Human Rights Commission hearing against Z's web-site. The Rights Commission is investigating if no-neck Zunie is breaking Canuck laws and shit by posting all those nazi lies about the Holocaust on his web site.

Ernie's "defense" is that his cyber-board is based in US and he is not responsible for the shit, so he is immune from laws here. His own "get me American citizenship" love bunny came forward to testify to that crock-of-shit.

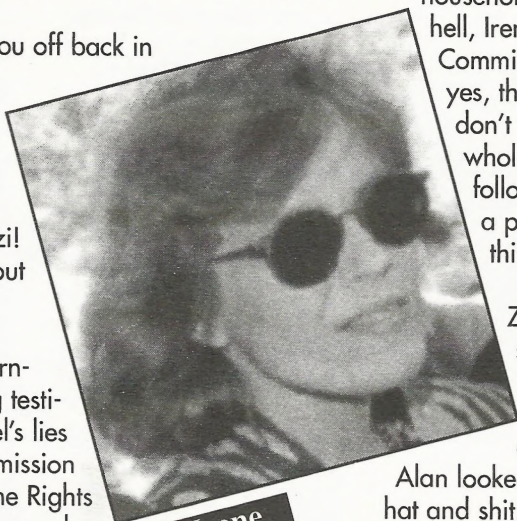

Rat was informed a long time ago that Zunie had an emotional bonding with his well paid Web page servant Ingrid "plastic surgery" Rimland. In fact, she is the one that introduced the "coffee cup" treatment at the 206 Carlton Street bunker. Now, for a moment don't think there is a self-contradiction or something like that here. Even though she purrs like a cat around the Guru of Hate, she is a walking dead soul... well, she sure looks like one! Proof of Z's taste of dead ones! Past, I hooked up with my man in Victoria to get her real mug... rather not use that 30 year old shot she waves around. He told me it's not worth it... use a bare bum of a raccoon. Even with the 2 pounds of face-cream she rubbed on her face last time she was in TO, my man got a good shot of her. Yes, Irene is damn right. Ingrid's left eye is one inch above the right one. Yeah man, this is the true face of Aryan beauty and Z was having an off the record physical bonding with her. Now you idiots who send Zundel $$$ cover his ass. Are you aware of how many times Z flew to Vancouver and got Ingrid to join him, so he could use her as the blanket? Don't listen to me, that's what Irene says.

I don't blame Irene for breaking the code of lies here. She thinks Ingrid fucked her around by keeping in touch with Zundel when Irene was supposed to be the queen of the household. Rather than succumb to more lies in her living hell, Irene got the fuck out and came the Rights Commission as a credible witness against Zundel. Oh yes, the whole world fell apart here at 206, even if they don't want to admit it. Still, Ingrid carefully avoids the whole issue. But, Ernie has to explain shit to his old followers. He went the extra mile to deny that she was a plant. But hey, I can't stop laughing at this whole thing.

I remember back in 1996, you folks in the anti-Zundel camp set him up for a documentary or something like that. You fuckers camouflaged Alan Dutton, the man with Canadian Anti-Racism Education & Research Society, as part of the film crew and sent him to interview Zundel. Oh boy, Alan looked like some kind of a cop that day with his funny hat and shit. The moment he walked into 206, Ernie gave him a very warm hug. After all, Z gave a paid job to Mark "the new daddy" Lemire while Marky was collecting his dole. All this because of Marky's good rapport with cops. Now Irene, who fed Zundel with her Italian cuisine every night for the past 18 months walks into the court room with 2 Metro intelligence dudes!!! You make the bloody conclusion!

Just before Irene left him, she used to call Zunie a "fat pig." Nothing against fat people, she meant he's a real pig. But Ernie took it wrong, he thought about his rolling flesh and suddenly informed his supporters that he's lost 30 pounds since she left. I guess you can make up your mind by reviewing his neck. What I want to tell you is his body-guard and coffee-cup keeper Eugene Ernst is growing horizontally like hell since Irene doesn't share the bed with Zundel. What's the connection here?

fascist woman. We caught up with him in Windsor in December and were pleased to see that he and his business associates, Jason Snow and Joseph Talic, have learned to respect anti-fascist chix since that last unfortunate encounter! See them running for their car, left!

Well, Burdi's got a nice career ahead of him in insurance like good ol' dad. Wonder how his less well-heeled former comrades feel about his convenient retirement? Next time you sing "this time the world", George, we'll know that your heart's not really in it.

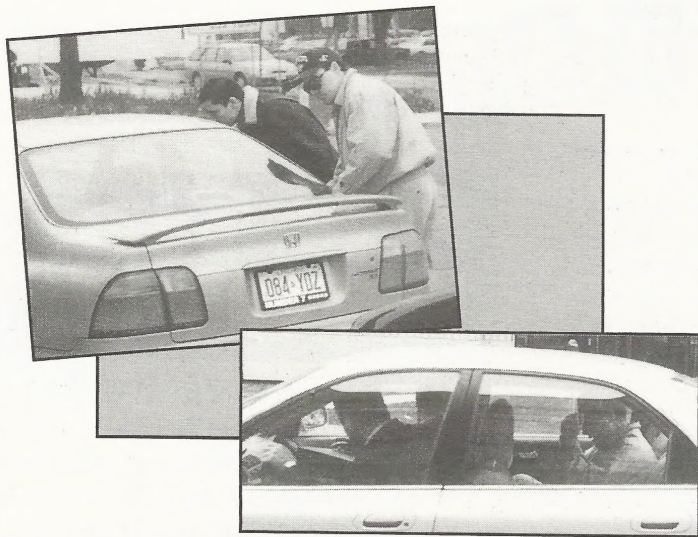

Fighting fascism – Cuban style!

A story from the straight press, no comment necessary! Zinnowitz, Germany (Jan 14, 1998): [Nazi] skinheads who harassed a group of foreigners in northeast Germany got a lesson in picking the right target – not top boxers in training.

The trouble started Friday when two skinheads entered a billiard hall where Cuban boxer Juan Carlos Gomez was relaxing. One insulted Gomez several times with a racial slur, police said. Gomez punched him in the nose and the skinheads left, police said.

The following Monday, a group of skinheads were waiting for the boxers when they returned to their hotel from training camp. Again, one of the boxers punched a skinhead in the face.

Neither side filed a formal complaint, police said.

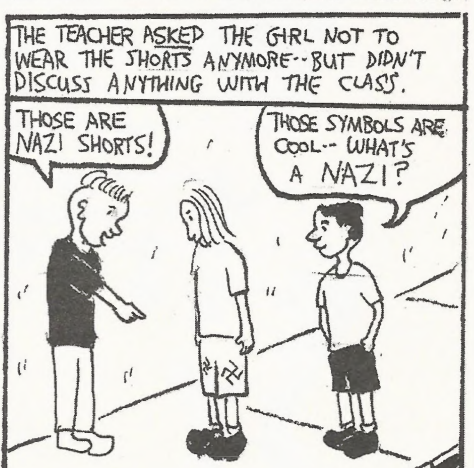

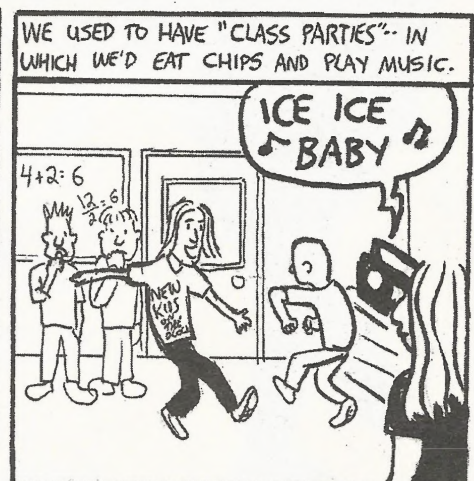

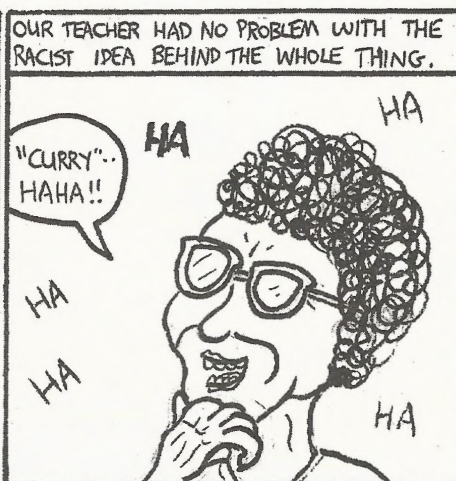

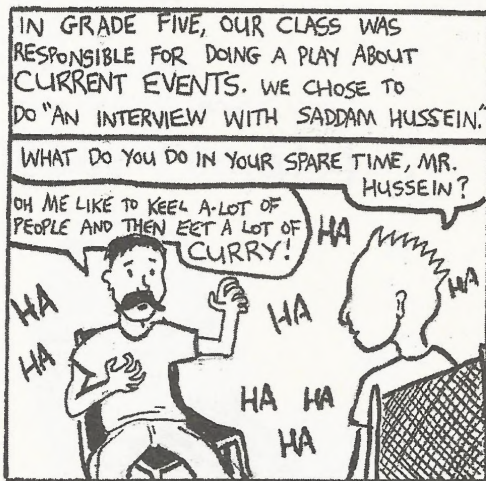

Burdi takes a holiday from Resistance Records

Nazi watchers will know that George Burdi, aka George Eric Hawthorne, was charged with promoting hatred and conspiring to promote hatred last September. He's the founder and spokesperson for Resistance Records, a white power record label – at least last we checked.

But now he's getting nervous at the prospect of landing in one of "ZOG"'s dungeons again. He claims to be retiring from the white power biz, and to have moved back to Toronto.

He's already done time for the cowardly assault on an anti-

What is ARA?

TORONTO'S ANTI-RACIST ACTION came together in September 1992, at a time when white supremacist groups were making a bid for mainstream credibility and recruiting white youth as shock troops for their genocidal plans. Since then we have been working in schools, in our neighbourhoods, and on the streets to show the strength of our opposition to white supremacy and fascism, as well as our commitment to a multi-racial, multi-cultural, sexually diverse, liberated and fun society. Our basis of unity is:

We will expose, oppose & confront organized racism and the far-right agenda, through education, mass action, and support of broader anti-racist struggles.

The ARA-Net is a growing network of more than 100 anti-racist/anti-fascist groups in North America, united by 4 principles:

1. We go where they go. Whenever fascists are organizing or active in public, we're there. We don't believe in ignoring them or staying away from them. Never let the nazis have the streets.
2. Don't rely on the cops or the courts to do our work. This doesn't mean we don't ever go to court. But we must rely on ourselves to protect ourselves and to stop the fascists.
3. Non-sectarian defense of other anti-fascists. In ARA-Net, we have lots of groups and individuals. We don't agree about everything, and we have a right to differ openly. But in this movement an attack on one is an attack on us all. We stand behind each other.
4. ARA-Net intends to do the hard work necessary to build a broad, strong movement against racism, sexism, anti-Semitism, homophobia, discrimination against the disabled, the oldest, the youngest, and the weakest of our people. We intend to win.
